Governor's COVID-19 Disaster Declaration Extended

On March 6, 2020, Pennsylvania Governor Tom Wolf signed a COVID-19 Disaster Declaration covering the entire Commonwealth that was set to expire June 4, 2020.

Governor Wolf has now extended the COVID-19 Emergency Declaration another 90 days or until September 2, 2020. As a result of this extension of the emergency declaration, any previous guidance we provided related to temporary changes we made such as Telehealth, relaxing prior authorization rules, coding updates, waiving copays and similar changes due to COVID-19 remain in effect.

If there is future guidance from DHS or the Governor's Emergency Declaration is lifted, we will communicate those changes in an updated notice and post it on our COVID-19 Resources page.

If you have any question regarding COVID-19 related guidance you can call Provider Relations at 1-866-638-1232.
